GIRL SCOUTS GIFT TO PARK

WHARF MEETING DISCUSSED

Norman Soares, Wharf Commissioner, met with Selectmen to report on his meeting with boat owners. He said that the meeting attended by over 50 people interested in the wharf had been highly productive and had provided him with some good suggestions for better wharf utilization. He has already informed boat ramp users to park trailers unhitched so that better use can be made of the limited area available. He said that more signs will be needed to designate areas for use and time limits. Long Wharf parking will be for owners of boats berthed on that wharf only. Mr. Soares said that a daily charge should be made for the use of electricity and for boats hauled out for repair on the wharf on the gravel area behind Fish on the Wharf. He suggested that the float be used for the loading and unloading of passengers only with a one hour time limit for the purpose. No skiffs would be allowed to be on the float. Many other suggestions were discussed and Soares said that he will prepare a detailed list to submit to the Selectmen in a week.

cult to gather together a meeting of his committee. Since the State mandates that heads of town departments be on the committee and they all have their own meetings to attend it is all but impossible to convene a meeting. The Selectmen suggested an expanded committee containing more citizen members.

CONSERVATION MEETING

Members of the Conservation Commission met with Selectmen concerning new appointments to that body. The members felt that poor communications had left the Selectmen with a lack of understanding of the contributions of replaced members. The Conservation Commission's functions in protection of the town is also misunderstood by many townspeople they said. The Board of Selectmen said that they would appreciate more contact with the Commission but their appointments had been made under the authority which they held to place new people with fresh input on the Commission.

PAINTINGS BY T. TAVARES AT ART CENTER

May 14 through June 6 the Cecil Clark Davis Gallery of the Marion Art Center will present the paintings of Tom Tavares of Fall River.

The work in this exhibit is "semi-abstract", he says, although he does not want to be aligned with any specific movement in painting. He speaks of his paintings as a "response to existence" stemming from relationships and interpretations of characters in his day-to-day life including friends, family and places to which he has traveled.

He is a graduate of Southeastern Massachusetts University and the Rhode Island School of Design.

He has received prizes for both his painting and his sculpture locally and nationally. Including three galleries on Cape Cod and one in New York City, Mr. Tavares has exhibited in numerous southern New England galleries.

The gallery is open Wednesday through Friday and Sunday 1-5 P.M.

Reflections on a Shore

Editorial, D.C.J.

All of us who live on the edge of the Atlantic are the most fortunate of people. The ability to walk away from the constant frustration caused by too many people attempting to do impossible things with too much government is rare. To be able to return to the primal depths from which life crawled in the beginning is renewal. No voice is as gentle as the turning of the grains of floating sand at the edge of the tide. No rage is as great as the fury of an ocean storm thundering from the same source. Self awareness is honed in contact with the sea which is host to billions of living creatures. As members of a race with little order, we can take comfort from nature whose order and law is absolute. Yet, in spite of this splendid dependability, our sea furnishes such infinite variety in color, mood and sound. It never is the same in any given moment. Whenever outraged by human acts against nature, it is of comfort to observe a natural body which corrects all outrages within its reach.

Many humans turn to meditation as a means of mind control in order to achieve a tranquil state that is refreshment to the spirit. Others, more fortunate, hold only communication with the sea that is at hand. There is no voice that can reach into the inner depths of a human quite so well as that of a great body of water. This benevolent giant is our greatest resource, our untamed strength and wealth beyond all measure belonging to none and all.

Letter to the Editor

Fellow citizens of Mattapoisett, as a recent member of the Conservation Commission I am greatly concerned with the general understanding of conservation.

Conservation is a lot of real things: the 200 mile limit; dumping on Brown's Ledge; sewage in our harbor; the town's water supply; our shellfish beds; marshes, and wetlands; off-shore drilling; the costs of oil, raw materials, and governments; unemployment, food costs, starvation, and overpopulation. In short, Conservation is actions on real physical things facing us now that greatly determine the quality of our living, perhaps even our survival.

Conservation is not some real things too. It is not: rumors that the Conservation Commission is throwing local builders out of work; nor is it why the old and young cannot afford to live in Mattapoisett; nor is it why town taxes keep going up and up; assessments are unequal, and industry cannot afford to move to town. Least of all it is not a valid scape-goat for morning coffee clubs to vent their frustrations on.

Fellow townspeople. Our problems are great. They will not be solved by ignor-

SATURDAY'S A NEW DAY AT N.B.I.S.

Funny, isn't it...how the oldest bank in Southeastern Mass. keeps getting newer all the time?

First, the NBIS extra-service version of N.O.W. accounts that bring you the convenience of checking while every penny earns interest. Then, better, faster service in getting new money for mortgages and loans. And now, the convenience of Saturday morning banking at three of our handiest locations...our Dartmouth, West End and Ashley Boulevard offices. You can take care of all your banking business at these NBIS locations on Saturday. Cash a paycheck. Shop for a loan. Or salt a little something away. During the rest of the week, you'll also find new longer hours at all six of our offices and all five drive-up windows.

Now you'll find banking a little more interesting and a lot more convenient. At N.B.I.S.

BOYS TO ATTEND BOYS' STATE

The Florence Eastman Post 280, American Legion, announces that four Old Rochester Regional High School boys from the Class of 1977 have been chosen to attend the 1976 Boys' State at Assumption College in Worcester from June 19 to June 26. Those attending from Mattapoisett are Frank Oliva, David Lamborghini and Wayne Caswell. Jeffrey Pina of Marion will be attending under the auspices of the Benjamin D. Cushing Post 2425, V.F.W. Criteria used in selecting these representatives include: leadership, character, scholarship, service, citizenship and sportsmanship. Mr. Albert Heuberger, Commander of the Eastman Post, states that as citizens of Boys' State each representative will have a chance to learn how "he, himself, is the government. He takes part in simulated non-partisan political campaigns, party caucuses, elections, and then he handles for himself the affairs of his city, county, state--learning for himself---just how our government affects his life, liberty and happiness."

GIRLS TO ATTEND GIRLS' STATE

Miss Mary Kate Worden and Miss Kathy Quinlan have been selected by the Florence Eastman Post 280 Auxiliary, American Legion, to represent the post at the 1976 Girls' State. Miss Donna Layport has been named the alternate delegate. The 32nd annual Massachusetts Girls' State will
